Apple Tree Seasons

An apple tree looks different in each season. In spring, pink and white blossoms fill the branches. They are pretty to look at and bees like them too! In summer, the tree has lots of green leaves. The blossoms from the spring slowly grow into apples. Fall is the time to pick apples. When an apple turns red, it is ready to eat. After the apples are picked, the leaves turn colors and fall to the ground. The apple tree rests in winter. When spring comes, the tree will blossom again.

Dear Tyler,

I'm very angry with you. Running Club should not be only for boys. It is unfair. You just made that rule because I always trounce you when we race. You hate losing!

Running Club should be for boys and girls. It should be for anyone who loves to run. You're not being very nice. I think I will start my own Running Club and let everyone come.

Not your friend,
Natalie

P.S. You'll feel sorry when you see how much fun we're having in my new club!
